

Family Members - Turkish Vocabulary

Course 4 - Vocabulary

1. The list of the words is below.
2. Don't forget to read the vocabulary tips.
3. You can download the audios of the words with the link at the bottom of the post.

Vocabulary Tip:

What do you get from vocabulary acquisition?

Does guessing the meaning correctly mean 'vocabulary acquisition'? Will you remember the meaning when you encounter that word for the second time? Let's assume that you successfully remembered the meaning. However, this doesn't mean that you will use it in a correct way. And the last and toughest step: you may not remember the word in real life situations when you just need to use it. Being able to use it automatically may require several exposures to that word in different times and situations.

In your first language, you learn new words because of extensive exposure. In your foreign language, however, this may not be possible unless you live abroad as a foreigner. Recent research shows that acquisition in the first language and the second language is NOT the same. Consequently, you need different materials and approaches. With the correct methods and strategies, development in the second language happens faster for adults than children.

To continue reading vocabulary tips, please go to the next course "Science".

List of the Words:

Türkçe	İngilizce
Anne	Mother
Baba	Father
Kardeş	Sibling
Abi	Big brother
Abla	Big sister
Kız kardeş	Sister
Erkek kardeş	Brother
Babaanne	Paternal grandmother
Anneanne	Maternal grandmother
Dede	Grandpa
Nine or Nene	Granny
Amca	Paternal uncle
Dayı	Maternal uncle
Hala	Paternal aunt
Yenge	Maternal aunt
Enişte	Brother-in-law (Sister's husband)
Bacanak	Brother-in-law (Wife's sister's husband)
Akraba	Relative

Have you ever wondered why the Turkish language is rich in the vocabulary concerning family members whereas the English language is poor?

•

Fluentinturkish.com

Original link: <http://fluentinturkish.com/vocabulary/family>

