2. Don't forget to read the vocabulary tips.
3. You can download the audios of the words with the link at the bottom of the post.

Vocabulary Tip:

The chemistry of learning a word is affected by various things: effort, interest, learning environment, cultural association, exposure to that word, availability of practicing the word etc. You may not learn to speak Spanish as fast as an Italian or a Portuguese. Cultural association, having a common ancient language or religion, all these things matters. So, never believe a person or a website that offers everyone the same 'best', 'most effective' or 'faster' language learning system. Every learner needs to take different methods and strategies depending on the context, task, 'person.'

Speaking in your second language is not easy. However, there is no reason that you can't. Stop blaming yourself or the website/software/book you have used. You just can't learn to speak a language with one book or website. Whatever strategy you take, 'using' the word in different contexts again and again (if necessary) must be your focus.
